History of Senior Class

We, the class of 1950, made our debut in September, 1946. This was our Freshman year and all this hum-drum and excitement was new to us.

We went through our Sophomore year in a breeze although it is supposed to be the most trying year.

The Junior year was exciting because we got our rings and put out a fine annual for the Senior class. We also put on a grand Junior-Senior prom. We believed this prom to be one of the best planned.

Then came our Senior year which came too fast. The year started in the usual way with the election of officers. John Root was elected as our president. Other Seniors to receive fame and fortune were Edith Hood who was chosen Homecoming Queen and Dave Ellis who was elected Student Council President. We look back now and think about all of the work and enjoyment that we have had in our Senior High as it comes to a close.

ROW THREE: Dave Lucas, Clarence Miller, Bill Mueller, Chuck Masi, Don Lehman, Clarence Martin, Joyce McConnell.

History of the Junior Class

We entered Senior High in 1947 as "green" as any other Freshman class. Many of the fellows went out for basketball, football, and track and brought us honors. The girls went out for G.A.A., Y-Teens, and many other activities. The class as a group sponsored a dance that was enjoyed by the whole school.

Our second year went fast with everyone studying and enjoying themselves. The Sophomore class as usual served for the Junior-Senior prom.

Another summer crept by and now we were Juniors, with Miss Allen, Mr. Dague, and Miss Clift as our sponsors. We chose our class rings, put out a swell annual for a grand Senior class, and gave the very best prom Medina has seen.

 ROW TWO: Rolland Eaken, Gill Davenport, Harold Emerson, Wesley Abbott, Benny Drda, Lee Burton, Jim Bachtell.

Sophomores

ROW ONE: Leo Gorfido, Winifred Gray, Arlene Kennedy, Darrel Koppes, Eleanor Hinkel, Maxine Gunkelman, Don Koehler, Wilma Jones.
 ROW TWO: Art Gwynne, John Hunter, Eugene Horkey, Fred Hquse, David Kellogg, Bob Huddelston, Bob Kozel.
 ROW THREE: Earl Haumesser, Paul Kaszian, Dean Frombaugh, John Gill, Joan Hoddinott, Carelline Hardy, David Hood, Alice Fisher.

History of Freshman Class

We, the class of '53, realized our ambition of becoming Medina High School students on September 13, 1949. Our first class meeting was held on September 15, and we elected Bill Dye president. Our members made their presence felt in the many worthwhile activities M.H.S. offers, such as music, dramatics, and athletics.

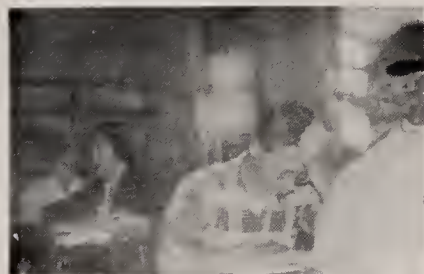

We made plans for our parties and other activities. All of us hope to be a credit both scholastically and morally to M.H.S.

Fight Team Fight!

Virginia Hamer, Nancy Sheerlein, Laura Lee Beall, Lucille Drotos, Caroline Rickard.

The five most loyal girls to our school are the cheerleaders. Through every football game regardless of weather these girls go out and cheer the team. Even when the team is losing they still have confidence and try to put some of it into the fans.

Even among a small gathering at basketball games they still cheer for all they are worth for a team they believe in.

The job of cheerleading is an envied one but there is hard work connected with it. Every Friday the girls prepare a pep rally and decorate the goal posts. They try to get the fans to share their enthusiasm and turn out for the games and cheer.

Even with all the work, not one of these girls would give it up. Some of the girls have shown this by cheering for three and four years.

The Medina basketball team, with only one varsity letterman returning, got off to a bad start, due to a lack of experience. Numerous combinations of personnel were tried, but none seemed to work. As a result they were able to salvage only one game. However, in that game they really looked good as they trounced Clearview by a score of 59-39. Five boys—Fred Smith, Dave Ellis, Frank Bochin, Bob Hyde and Jim Holden, finished their high school basketball careers.

Girls' Basketball Team

The interscholastic girls' basketball team was again organized this year. It got into full swing by winning its first three games from Burbank, Leroy, and Liverpool, but lost the fourth to Barberton. Eight games are to be played but the results of the other four remain to be seen. The team was chosen by Miss Allen and shows excellent promise for the future.

The purpose of this organization is to develop interest and skill in both individual and group games, to fasten the sportsmanship in its members and in the school at large, and to strengthen the bonds of loyalty between its members and the school.

In September the girls went on an overnight hike. Their largest job was to present the Football Banquet in November.

In December there was a homecoming for all G.A.A. letter girls of preceding years.

Homecoming

Attendant Lucille Drotos, Queen Edith Hood, Attendant Joan Barna.

Medina's Homecoming was a big event. Queen Edith Hood and her attendants, Lucille Drotos and Joan Barna, brought luck to the team and Medina won a 6-0 victory with Clearview.

After the game a dance was held for all students and alumni in the high school auditorium. As the curtain opened a spot of royalty was revealed. Edith was crowned by the Student Council President.

Music for the dance was furnished by the new "Stardusters" in the attractively decorated auditorium.

Y-Teen Formal

QUEEN MARY EDITH AND HER ROYAL COURT

A new attraction was featured at the annual Y-Teen formal as Mary Edith Wirkner was elected snow queen and reigned in a snow-spangled court.

The queen was crowned by Mrs. Miner, the Y.W.C.A. president, and was attended by Joyce Anderson, Virginia Karshner and their escorts. The festive crowd danced to the music of Bill Woodring and his orchestra.

The Class Will

We, the senior class, being of sound mind and body, do hereby leave to the jivey Juniors the pride and joy of being called Seniors.

We will to the silly Sophomores, the pleasant job of editing the annual and the worries of the Junior-Senior Banquet.

We will to those flighty, flirty Freshmen the pleasure of outgrowing their green condition.

Individually, our wills are as follows:

Alice Aarons leaves to all underclassmen her determination to finish school. Maynard Abbott wills his love for nature to his cousin Donnie Abbott. Bob Aikman wills his ability to stay out of school to anyone who does not like school. Kenny Albrecht bequeaths his four-wheeled gas burner to any poor soul who thinks he can keep it running. Joyce Anderson wills her love for sports to Bea Cronk. Josephine Aronica wills her horror of excess calories to Bill Mueller. Joyce Auker bequeaths her love of older escorts to Bev Pelton. Joan Barna wills her job as editor of the Medinamite to someone in next year's journalism class. Jewell Bayless wills her knowledge of shorthand to anyone who is willing to work for it. Laura Lee Beall bestows her ability to be a cheerleader for five years upon Stevie Ford. Sue Bennett wills the whole school to anyone who might miss it. Pete Bohley leaves his ancient excuse for a trombone to anyone with a strong right arm and plenty of wind. Frank Bochin gives the shorn portion of his summer hair cuts to Mr. Duke. Nancy Burris leaves, and is glad to go! Wanda Canfield bequeaths her love for noon periods and three-minute periods to any Freshman who does not like school work too well.

Glen Carlton wills his cooking ability to Mary Lou Aikman. Betty Carter leaves her seat in Orchestra to Ila Myers, if she can practice one hour each week. Jacqueline Clarke gives her nickname "Crash" to anyone who takes driving in future years. Ann Crombie wills her appreciation for good jokes to any Junior with a good sense of humor. Bev Cruthers leaves her seat in band to George Kenyon, hoping he has as much fun as she has had. Alberta DeGlas gives to one of the Seniors of "51" the joy of singing in Glee Club. Ed Dornbirer wills his seat in chemistry to anyone who has enough nerve to take the subject. Lucy Drotos bequeaths her place in senior cheerleading to anyone who can do the split and turn cartwheels. Tony Duplaga leaves his position as Vice-President of F.F.A. to David Hood. Jim Eastwood wills his homeroom seat in room 221 to his brother, Roger, in hopes that he makes it. Chester Eaken wills to any boy the pleasure of being in Mr. Rudes' classes for two years. Dave Ellis bestows his ability to sleep in study halls without being disturbed upon anyone wanting to follow in his footsteps. Joan Fenn leaves her one study hall a week to Mary Houseman. Bob Gardner bequeaths his desire to do acrobatic work to Dave Lucas. Rosemary Gienke wills her ability to go with a baseball player to anyone who doesn't know baseball from football and wants a good teacher. Flossie Gilbert bestows upon the Seniors of "51" a very happy school year. Kay Schwartz Greenberg wills all the good times she had at M.H.S. to all the future generations to come. Ginny Hamer wills her interest in dancing to any under classman.

Ted Harley bestows his interest in roller skating upon anyone who needs the exercise. Edith Haumesser gives her nickname "Pete" to anyone who wants it. Bob Hay wills his pipe to some 7th grade girl. Jim Holden leaves his track shoes to George Beshire. Edith Hood wills her seat in room 221 to her brother Denny, in the class of 1966. Eleanor Hood leaves to any Junior girl, her seat in the shorthand class. Janet Hood wills her seat in typing to Phyllis Nichols and hopes that she can type for one and a half hours without getting an aching back. Burt Houseman bequeaths all of his physics credits to a future physics student. Bob Hyde wills his fifth and sixth periods of study to any under classman who is failing in a subject. Joyce Jameyson wills her ability to dance, to LaRue Hamer, who loves dancing as well as she does. Diana Karas leaves her ability to chew gum in choir and orchestra, where it is strictly taboo, to anyone who wants to risk it. Ginny Karshner wills her three B's—boots, baton, and battered nerves—to all future drum majorettes of Medina High's band. Phyllis Keefer bequeaths her love for square dancing to anyone who thinks that their heart can stand it. David King wills his glachenspeil to anyone who will beat his brains out. Mary Kling leaves her seat in senior homeroom to any junior girl who wants it. John Kotala bequeaths his position as Watch-Dog of F.F.A. to Rudolph Kouba. Jeanette Kungli leaves her practice of skipping a lot of school. George LaBarre leaves the wrecked clutch in his Ford to Dick Eaken. Bill Langford wills his height to Leo Gorfido, hoping that he takes better advantage of it. Connie Letterle leaves her speech book to Shirley Dahler. Marie Lewis bequeaths her typewriter to Helen Morse. Barb Linton leaves her job as treasurer of G.A.A. to anyone who wants it. Ida Martin leaves her love for basketball to her sister, Maxine. Olive Martin wills her size four shoes to any Junior girl who wears size nine shoes. Philip Mast wills his ability to remain quiet in class to Leonard Morse. Tom Miner wills his ability to collect insurance to anyone who doesn't mind a broken arm. Frank Mora leaves Medina High School so the under classmen can enjoy it more. Joe Nagy wills his athlete's foot to the hods of next year's football squad. Faye Nettleton bequeaths her ability to sit in front of a character like Ears Parish all through high school to Connie Pastor, if she can take it. Dick Parish wills his guard position on the football team to Walt Andrews. Clara

Partin wills to any eager Freshman the courage to take English IV and like it! Erma Plants Twinem gives her ability to snag the right fella to any girl who is having trouble. Jean Pope leaves her paint brush for Dramatics Club to anyone who has strong wrists. Mable Pursley wills the privilege of staying out of school to anyone who can do it. Frank Reutter leaves his naval ability to Eugene Horkey. Caroline Rickard wills her voice for yelling the cheers to the entire assembly to anyone who will take advantage of it. John Root bequeaths his hurdles to anyone who wants them. Donna Ross wills her blond hair to any boy who prefers blondes. Dolores Scherer wills her ability to play softball to the freshmen. John Schindelholz leaves his left end position on the football team to Dick Barry. Mary Schindelholz bequeaths her good luck to be the first one on the bus and the last one off to her sister. Mae Schlechty wills her inability to play the viola to Audene Carlton, if she can stand it. Bert Smith wills his football equipment to Dave Lucas and his locker to George Beshire. Rose Sohl wills her job in Mr. Claggett's office to her sister Donna. Newton Standen wills his dilapidated model "A" to any Junior needing transportation to the Junior-Senior Banquet. Harriet Steidl leaves her love for food to any Junior girl who can't read scales. Arzelia Taylor bestows her ability to set the hands of the clock at eight upon the Junior class. Phyllis Teubner bequeaths the privilege of helping Mr. Claggett in the office to her brother Teddy, if he is lucky enough to have extra credits. Marlene Tillar wills the pleasure of sleeping late every day to any junior who has enough credits. Herbert Tomes leaves his way with women to any Junior boy. Mary Ellen Upton bequeaths her ability to get to school before the twenty-seven-after bell to the remaining high school students. Calvin Wilcox wills room in his convertible to any good-looking girl who wants to ride in it. Winnie Williams bequeaths her ability to get in jams and be late for school to anyone who can kid Mr. Insprucker. Mary Edith Wirkner wills her baton and uniform to anyone who wants to practice at least once a day, laugh at sore muscles and bruised body, and pay the dry cleaning bills. Bill Wolfe wills his football locker to next year's football captain. Dallas Yost bequeaths his .500 batting average to next year's catcher.

In witness, we hereunto set our hand and seal, being of sound body and no mind, on this 1st day of January, one thousand nine hundred and fifty.

The Senior Class Prophecy

Today we are privileged to have with us Luella Pearson and Walter Winchell to give us an "On the Spot" account of what is happening on the uproarious train, Medina Special 1950.

Upon entering the train, we are almost knocked down by Frank Bochin, who is conducting a frantic search. Upon being asked whom he is looking for he replies that he is Governor Dave Ellis' bodyguard and they have lost each other.

We finally reach our seats and glance out the window. There is Ed Dornbirer, racing for the train, late as usual. After getting settled, the conductor, Bill Langford, comes by and asks for our tickets.

As this car becomes a little dull, we ask the conductor where some excitement can be found. Following his advice, we go to the music car.

As we open the door, we are hit by a blast of sour notes, flat notes, and lost chords. We look around and see Nancy Burris and her famous symphony orchestra at one side of the car. The members of the orchestra are Beverly Cruthers, Joan Fenn, Betty Carter, Joyce Anderson, and Barb Linton.

On the other side of the car there is quite a contrast. John Kotala has his Barnyard Music Makers in action. In this band (pardon the expression) are Tony Duplaga, whiskey jug; Philip Mast, wash board; Calvin Wilcox, saw; and Glen Carlton, mouth organ.

After listening to this music, we need something to refresh us. Down at one end of the car we notice a soda bar so we go to get a soda. Who should the soda jerk be but Newton Standen in the flesh. Two well-known artists, Josephine Aronica and Phyllis Keefer, are painting pictures of Ginny Karshner, who is sitting on the bar.

We are nearing Mora Junction, home of Whitey Mora's dude ranch. This is our first stopping-off place of the trip.

Just before the train resumes its journey a host of men get on the train. These men are prisoners, being led by the very capable sheriff, Bill Wolfe. The prisoners are Bob Hyde, Bob Aikman, Tom Miner, Joe Nagy, Dick Parish, John Schindelholz, Fred Smith, and Dallas Yost. They have been arrested on the serious charge of having dated during football season.

As the train moves on, we pass a huge Used-Car lot, owned by Ken Albrecht. Working for him are Herbert Tomes and Maynard Abbott.

At this time we start back to our seats. To arrive there we have to go through the music car again. This time we hear the three Hood girls rehearsing. Edith, Eleanor, and Janet Hood are singing "Beer Beer Polka."

Upon reaching our seats, we notice some new arrivals. We recognize one of them as being the famous chemist, Burt Houseman, who found the new element, "Burtonium". His secretaries, Mae Schlechty and Marlene Tillar, are looking out the window. Our eyes follow theirs and we see Bert Smith overtaking us as he runs in the National Cross Country Meet.

To our left are three very nervous girls, Joyce Auker, Jean Pope, and Rose Sohl. They are going to Nurses' Training School to take their entrance exams.

In front of these girls is the world famous woman reporter, Diana Karas. She is interviewing the captain of the sailboat-racing team, John Root. Accompanying John Root are Frank Reutter, a well-known psychiatrist, and his assistant, Chester Eaken.

Having gotten hungry, we go down the aisle toward the dining car. There aren't any seats left. The members of the W.N.G.S. (Women's National Garden Society) are here. Members present are Alice Aarons, Wanda Canfield, Betty Chapman, Arzelia Taylor, and Mary Ellen Upton.

Finally someone offers us a seat. She is Sue Bennett, the only female undertaker in the United States. With her is Faye Nettleton, her assistant. While the waitress, Clara Partin, takes our order, we glance toward the table next to ours and recognize the famous movie actress, Edith Haumesser, her co-star, David King, and her producer, Mr. James Eastwood. They have just finished the movie named "Black Heat", and are returning to Hollywood. Talking to them is Mr. Peter Bohley, who won the Nobel prize for his novel, "A Million Uses for Hard Likker."

Sitting in the back of the car, calmly reading his paper, is Bob Hay, a successful businessman. He is accompanied by his private secretary, Winnie Williams.

Sports are also represented in this dining car. We recognize Bob Gardner, parallel bar champion, and Jim Holden, billiard champion. Both are going to the Olympics.

Because we hear a lot of laughter we turn around. There we see Ted Harley, a traveling salesman, who is telling some of his famous jokes.

Two other celebrities are here with us. They are Mary Schindelholz and Jewell Bayless, who are famous deep-sea divers. Also we see Olive and Ida Martin, owners of a large hotel.

Ann Crombie, a school teacher, is eating dinner with George LaBarre, the manager of the B. & L. Dime Store. She tells us that she is trying to persuade him to stop the sale of bubble gum.

Being through with our meal we decide to retire to our coach. On the way down the corridor, we bump into Jeanette Kungli, Connie Letterle, and Marie Lewis. They are models for a New York concern. They tell us that an old friend of ours, Jackie Clarke, is the owner of the Roller Derby in our Home Town.

We say good-bye and find our seats to be already occupied by three married women, Erma Twinen, Kay Greenburg, and Joyce Jameyson. Their children have put chewing gum on the seats. Rosemary Gienke and Donna Ross, their hired baby sitters for the day, are helping to clean it up.

Having lost our seats we sit down beside Phyllis Teubner. She tells us she is traveling to New York to be on Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scout Show.

Mary Kling, Mable Pursley, Harriet Steidl, and Flossie Gilbert are behind us. They are going to the National Teachers' Convention. They are talking to Caroline Rickard, Alberta DeGlas, Mary Edith Wirkner, and Virginia Hamer, who have just come back from the Beall Beautician School.

Just now the whistle blows and the train comes to a jolting stop. We have reached our destination, Medina High School. We are being received by two newspaper reporters, Joan Barna and Lucille Drotos.

"THE END"

Free Men or Slaves?

You, of the class of 1950, are graduating from high school at a critical time in our country's history. As Americans you will have decisions to make that will determine the kind of world in which you and your children will live.

Liberty, which we have tended to take for granted, is in danger of being lost; not by outside conquest but from softness within. Your right to free decision and your opportunity to build a successful career based on your ability and ambition are being compromised by those who seek security, not as a result of their own efforts, but as a "gift" from the federal government.

A government that supports the people also directs and orders their lives, determines what they shall do, and what their reward shall be. This is slavery. If you want to avoid it, you must resist the tempting bait of government handouts for which you have not delivered value. You must determine to make your own way and pay your own bills. You must vote into office people who believe in a free, self-reliant people not in a populous living on government dole.

Have confidence in yourself; seek opportunity; build your own security; and it will continue to be fun to live in America.
